Idea:

- travel English speaking countries (because I like the language and speak it reasonably well),
- meet fellow coaches and exchange ideas and techniques, both in coaching and marketing,
- live in places and towns I've never been before,
- and have fun on the way.

Impact:

- show people at home what's hot in the coaching business on an international scale,
- connect to the global coach spirit,
- and inspire and get inspired by sharing my experiences on my blog.

Interested?

- in meeting me and sharing knowledge and wisdom?
- in discussing workflows, marketing, and how to have a profitable business with coaching?
- in presenting your business to my international network?
